ELEVEN MILLS THE TAX LEVY

Council Fixes Same Amount That Prevailed in Charleroi Last Year

CONTRACTS TO BE AWARDED

Eleven mills is the tax levy in Charleroi this year, that amount having been set by council after going over the budget of the finance committee at a regularly adjourned session Thursday evening. This is the same tax levy that prevailed during last year. Council did some slicing in the budget that was first prepared in order to reach the 11 mill limit.

Three paving ordinances passed final reading, and as a result council is asking today for bids on the grading and paving of Meadow avenue between Fifth and Seventh street, of Seventh street between Lincoln avenue and Crest avenue and on Third street between Lincoln avenue and Meadow avenue. Bids are to be in by June 1. Ordinances for grading and paving Gelder and McMahon alleys passed first reading. Grade ordinances will have to pass before they can be finally considered.

A. D. Arrison, a resident of Twilight borough, entered a complaint that garbage was being burned outside the garbage furnace, and asking that this sort of incineration be stopped, because of the awful odors it produced. Council peremptorily appointed the garbage committee to investigate.

Property owners along Lincoln avenue from Sixth to Seventh street asked by petition for a sidewalk on the lower side of the street, as well as a retaining wall. The street committee was told to investigate.

C. R. Newcomer asked to have a sewer for his garage on Lookout avenue and Fifth street, but council declined to make the connection on the grounds that the precedent of making one connection only for a property was established.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS A MEETING

The Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met Thursday evening with Mrs. M. Wilson on Fallowfield avenue. After the devotions and business, Mrs. J. S. Crawford gave a reading, "Lace and Missions," and Miss Woodhall discussed "Our Work in Puerto Rico." This mission study book, "The Child in the Midst" was taken up as follows: "What the British government could do for the conservation of motherhood in India," Mrs. Geo. Clark; "Mohammedan superstitions," and "Topics suitable for a mother's meeting in China," Miss Kate McPherson; "Impressions," Mrs George Woodhall. Mrs. Allen read an interesting paper on child welfare work. Chapter two of the study book has been assigned for the next meeting, the third Tuesday of June with Mrs. Mosier. Refreshments were served.

MAN ACCUSED OF KILLING WIFE IS NOW RECOVERING

William H. Kuen Now Under Close Guard in Pittsburg Hospital—Miss Richards Practically Well

William H. Kuen, who shot and killed his wife, wounded Miss Gertrude Richards, his sister-in-law and fired two shots into his body. Wednesday evening at Pittsburg is recovering in Mercy Hospital. Miss Richards was discharged from the hospital Thursday morning and after making a statement to Superintendent of Police W. Noble Matthews, was taken away by friends. Kuen is under guard at the hospital.

Mrs. Kuen, in her libel for divorce, charged that she had been subjected to ill treatment by her husband from the time of her marriage in Corning, N. Y., September 14, 1908. She filed action against him July 7, 1914, but withdrew it, the couple living together again for a short time. On January 25, 1915, she again filed action and it was her refusal to withdraw the suit that caused her death. Mrs. Kuen's body will be sent to the home of her parents in Monessen for burial.

WILL HOLD GOOD ROADS' MEETING

East Bethlehem Township Citizens Arranging for Big Celebration

PARADE WILL BE A FEATURE

East Bethlehem township is making a strong bid for the reputation of being the most progressive community in Washington county in the matter of good roads and on Saturday evening, May 22 the Good Roads association of that place will hold a mammoth "Good Roads" meeting in the Union school house, located midway between Millsboro and Fredericktown.

This meeting will be called to order at 7:30 o'clock sharp and reports coming in to the committee indicate that the capacity of the school house will be taxed. Delegations will be present from Charleroi, Monongahela, Brownsville, Waynesburg, Uniontown and all intermediate points.

The big drawing card for this meeting will be a monster automobile parade in the afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and already more than seventy-five automobile owners have signified their intention of taking an active part in this parade. The line will form in Main street, Millsboro, and go to Clarksburg, where it will be joined by a delegation of road enthusiasts from that community. Returning the parade will pass through Milsboro and Fredericktown and on to Centerville station, returning to Fredericktown, where it will disband. The route of the parade covers about eight miles, the entire length of the township. The parade will be headed by the Rices Landing brass band. Citizens of both Fredericktown and Millsboro will

ITALY ENTERS WAR STRIKES FIRST BLOW

Italy entered the great European war today by striking its first blow at Austria-Hungary through its navy. Results are not known.

The entrance of Italy into the war places affairs in a greater muddle. Germany's association with Austria will mean war between Italy and Germany. As a matter of fact Germany cannot well escape war with Italy, if it wished. Its policy of aiding Austria brought conflict with Russia, Great Britain and France and the policy in the present case will have to be followed, or admittance be made, practically of defeat.

Italy will be allied in the conflict with Russia, Great Britain, France, and Belgium against Austria and Germany. The alliances and associations coalescing the various countries of Europe in separate divisions, have been ruthlessly shattered. Italy, Germany and Austria-Hungary constituted one tripple alliance and France, Great Britain and Russia the other until the war began. By many it is believed the entrance of Italy, with her trained and able troops, may signalize the beginning of the end of the fearful struggle.

SWIMMERS AND DIVERS SHOW ACQUATIC SKILL

Rice and Dore Carnival at the River Shore Thursday is Much Enjoyed By Those Present—High Diving Is a Feature.

The Rice and Dore Water carnival an innovation of the kind that is always highly enjoyed, appeared in Charleroi for two performances Thursday, and entertained royally those who braved the inclement weather to be numbered among those present.

The show, in general consisted of stunts in the water performed by a troupe of men and women that most certainly did know how to dive and swim. Clowns were there to entertain with their antics.

Women swimmers and divers and the work of two male swimmers and divers attracted the most attention. Acquatic skill that is more often imagined than viewed was displayed. The climax came in three high dives from a tall ladder located within good view of the audience. First came a high dive by Miss Smith, and then a male diver dropped from about a 50 foot porch. The concluding dive was by a Mr. Payne, who dived from the top of the ladder at a guess 80 feet high into the tank.

TWO CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Sentence is Imposed Upon John Schmutzer and Frank Cornish

FACTS DIFFICULT TO LEARN

There were two convictions for manslaughter Thursday in criminal court. John Schmutzer, indicted for the murder of John Sandra at Van-Voorhis, on New Years eve last, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter. He was given an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary of from two to four years.

Frank Cornish was found guilty of manslaughter. He was recently arrested for the killing of John Baretz, at Shire Oaks, on October 12, 1914. In this case the commonwealth simply had to rely upon circumstances. Charles Nitroski, who was indicted with Cornish, was discharged, the commonwealth having no evidence against him. The charge against him was withdrawn after the case was called.

Schmutzer claimed self defense in the charge against him. The trouble occurred at the home of Mike Prodin, following a christening. There was a general fight outside the Prodin house. Sandra was fatally injured when struck over the head, while another man, Kovac, was so badly hurt that he was in the hospital for several weeks.

In sentencing Schmutzer Judge Irwin remarked that not in his several years practice or since he had been on the bench had he heard a case in which it was so difficult to get at the real facts.

Cornish was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary of from two to four years. His defense was a denial of any trouble with Baretz or of having anything to do with the injuries that caused Baretz's death. He claimed he knew nothing of Baretz's serious condition until after he had received the kick in the stomach and which indirectly caused Baretz's death.

The commonwealth relied on the fact that the day that Baretz was hurt Cornish left Shire Oaks, though he had steady work there went to Westmoreland county near Irwin and there took an assumed name.

Testimony was offered to the effect that Cornish had admitted at the alderman's office at Monongahela that he had been in a fight with Baretz, that he had knocked Baretz down but that Charles and George Nitroski had kicked Baretz. There were other circumstances upon which the commonwealth relied to connect Cornish with the crime.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Four hundred appropriation bills carrying $25,000,000 according to news dispatches, were disposed of in 25 minutes at Harrisburg, when it came to putting them through. Naturally these have been considered in committee, but it may be assumed that the governor will pare some of them down to a greater or less extent on the ground that the revenues of the state are insufficient to meet the burden laid upon it, says the Williamsport Sun.

One item which the governor will hardly cut is $423,000 for vocational training. The day of the three R's is now over in the public schools and it likewise appears that certain more advanced studies that found their way into the public school course some years ago, when the old curriculum broadened out will be dropped.

The question that confronts public school teachers and authorities is what shall be taught to pupils in the few years of their lives available for acquiring an elementary education? Along the lines of manual training considerable progress has been made in city public schools.

Almost every city in the state has a fairly well developed system of the training of the hand and eye.

In some it has been carried to a greater extent than in others. In rural schools much less has been done, probably in the great majority of the country schools of Pennsylvania, nothing whatever. This should be changed. In the not distant future extensive vocational training needs to be undertaken in the rural public schools along the line of agricultural training.

There ought to be no public school in any township in the state without its acre or so devoted to agriculture and horticulture with a view of stimulating the interest of pupils in problems of the farm, orchard, dairy and garden and their solution in a rational manner. This is a kind of vocational training that will pay big dividends. In addition, provision ought to be made for "extension" work among adults. Scientific farming needs to be taught and well taught.

The farmers of Pennsylvania contribute a huge amount of the taxes annually collected. They are justly entitled to greater benefits than they are now receiving.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

One of the victims of the Lusitania was a Belgian woman, the wife of an officer of Belgium, who is now fighting for the preservation and even the very existence of his own beloved country. And two sons of this woman are also on the line of battle, remarks an exchange. She herself came to this country some months ago seeking aid for her suffering and starving people.

She spent several months going from city to city appealing to the generosity and sympathy of the American people and she succeeded in raising more than $100,000 to keep her countrymen from suffering want and destitution. She was returning to her native land, to report the result of her work on behalf of her unfortunate compatriots, when the torpedo from the German submarine struck the vessel on which she had sailed. Thus was enacted a double tragedy.

The first was the tragedy which made her mission necessary—the wanton destruction of her own country by the German armies in violation of the laws of neutrality. Fulfilling her sacred mission on behalf of the sorely afflicted Belgians, it became her lot to suffer an innocent death by the hands of that same power which had made the first great tragedy in the life of her people. The story is as sad as the death was tragic and it touches the hearts of the whole human race not engaged in war.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

According to Roy K. Moulton, in the Philadelphia Star, the following was Mr. Bird's garden diary:

Monday—Worked in the garden all day.

Tuesday—Worked in the garden two hours after lunch.

Wednesday—Worked in the garden fifteen minutes and went to a ball game.

Thursday—Went out and walked around the garden.

Friday—Looked out of the kitchen window to see if the garden was still there.

Saturday—Forgot all about it.

Moulton tells another story, as follows:

Dear Sir: My wife has went back on me and eloped with a actor. Oh I can never stand all of this trouble.

Yours truly, H—— G——.

Trouble? Huh! What do you know about trouble.

Supposing you had three kids with the measles, the mortgage on your farm was about to be foreclosed, you had a boil on your nose, your groceryman had shut down on the credit, you had five installments due within a week and you had overdrawn your bank account $49.54. Supposing your neighbor on the right kept a goat, your neighbor on the left kept a phonograph and your neighbor upstairs was a vocal teacher. Supposing you had dyspepsia, gout, jumping neuralgia, spavin, pip, sciatic rheumatism, St. Vitus dance and shingles at the same time. Then you might begin to talk about trouble. You ought to be ashamed of yourself.

COMMENCEMENT ISSUE OF RED AND BLACK OUT

"Red and Black" of High School to Be Put on Sale Monday—Is Especially Creditable Publication.

The commencement issue of "The Red and Black," the Charleroi high school publication which was started this year, is to be placed on sale Monday, the book having been printed and prepared. This issue is the biggest of all that has been published by the high school students thus far and the best. It is a magazine of 60 pages that is a credit to the editors and corps of business managers, being replete with commencement and literary features, editorial work and school news, as well as splendid advertising.

The class rolls of the academic and commercial departments of high school are given completely, together with the history, the speech of the class donor and the class prophecy among the high school feature reports.

One of the interesting departments is that of a poetic "write-up" of each member of the graduating class, published along with the pictures of individuals.

The literary department is filled with good stories and bits of delightful poetry. School news relates to past events, reported in good style. Departments, such as commercial and music are given considerable space.

The field meets in which the field and track team participated at Washington was well covered. Setting off the athletic department of the magazine, pictures of various athletic teams are published, together with records. "Memories of Long Ago" are published in the alumni notes a most interesting department. Rounding out the publication and making it complete school jokes and personals are printed in as pecial location.

Taken as a whole "The Red and Black" is one of the classiest school publications that has made its appearance this spring. It is prepared in a style that would do credit to any college and therefore reflects all the more credit upon the local high school folk who prepared it.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Them.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

"LAY DOWN YOUR ARMS" TO BE SHOWN SATURDAY

At the Lyric Saturday, "Lay Down Your Arms," one of the best motion pictures shown in this vicinity for some time will be the attraction. The picture deals with the greatest problem of all times and is destined to do much towards the advancing of the cause of universal peace. It is far above the average war picture and the many battle scenes of the drama are staged and enacted in a most realistic fashion. 272-t1p
